

PRESS RELEASE

"IBERIAN PASSION AT LINEAPELLE"

With just under 500 square meters, Iberian Passion is present at Lineapelle through a staggering 17 Spanish Tanneries, showcasing the best of the Iberian Passion through innovative and creative leather and fur collections.

Lineapelle has always been the leading trade show within the international leather industry, and more specifically the European market. The Spanish Tanners have always focused on this platform to continue with their branding positioning because "Lineapelle" is probably the best trade show that allows the Spanish companies to position themselves in the luxury market. Italy and France are the main markets for Spanish leathers, so this trade show not only allows the companies to showcase their latest collections, but is also an excellent meeting point.

The importance of this show is clearly illustrated by the Spanish Tanners participation- as it is the trade fair with the largest presence of Spanish companies. For Mrs Anna García, the recently nominated Managing Director: "The name Italy has always been associated with luxury, design and quality and for many companies of our industry, Italy is their number one market. And stats show that even in a crisis, the sale of luxury goods remains rather intact. And all of our client's value highly not only the quality of the finished article, but also the origin of the hides and leathers, since Spain is renowned for its raw materials. Also, within the last decade, most Spanish companies have focused and specialized in premium quality articles, which has enabled them to not only penetrate the luxury market, but also consolidate them in the Italian fashion as one of their leading suppliers."

One of the attractive factors of the Spanish participation at this show is that each company has its own unique signature when it comes to design and innovation, yet they all have a facet which is apparent throughout the collections of the companies, and that is their passion for natural beauty, including the chromatic palette of colours which they are presenting this season. Iberian Passion is the result of centuries of tradition, of love for an ancient craft and their desire and fight to ensure their future through perfection, sustainability, technology, innovation, creativity and excellence.
